CD Skywatch To Be Organized

A meeting is scheduled Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing Ground Observation Corps posts for Hancock County. Ken Whitfield, Civil Defense director said.

Volunteers for the "Operation Skywatch" can register at the meeting set for the REA building on Hwy. 90. The CD director urges all Hancock citizens over 16 years of age to attend the meeting and volunteer their service, no matter how limited in time.

Air Force Capt. William J. Lytell, Brookley AFB, Mobile will be at the meeting to outline the program and to begin the classes.

Eighteen posts throughout the county will be constructed immediately with the GOC volunteers manning them. Whitfield said he hopes civil organizations throughout the county will be able to give time to the GOC.

The main duty is the spotting of all air crafts seen over this area and feeding the information to the "filter center," in a city in a nearby state, where the exact position of the craft is then plotted on a plexiglas board until the plane is identified as friendly or enemy.

Ladies are especially invited to attend the meeting and join the GOC," Whitfield said.

The local Civil Defense units want to get the COP activated as quickly as possible.

Eight two-hour evening classes over a period of weeks are scheduled. They will consist of identification of airplanes, study of prevailing weather, operation of feeding information to the filter center and keeping of post records.

Whitfield said that any length of time may be volunteered for any time of the day. For example, half an hour in the evening might be given by a daytime worker, or high school student, while perhaps an hour during the day might be donated by a housewife.

The time schedule will be worked out for the convenience of the volunteers," Whitfield said.

The filter centers will begin their outlining by the first of July and by Aug. 4 their area, including Hancock County, should be completed.

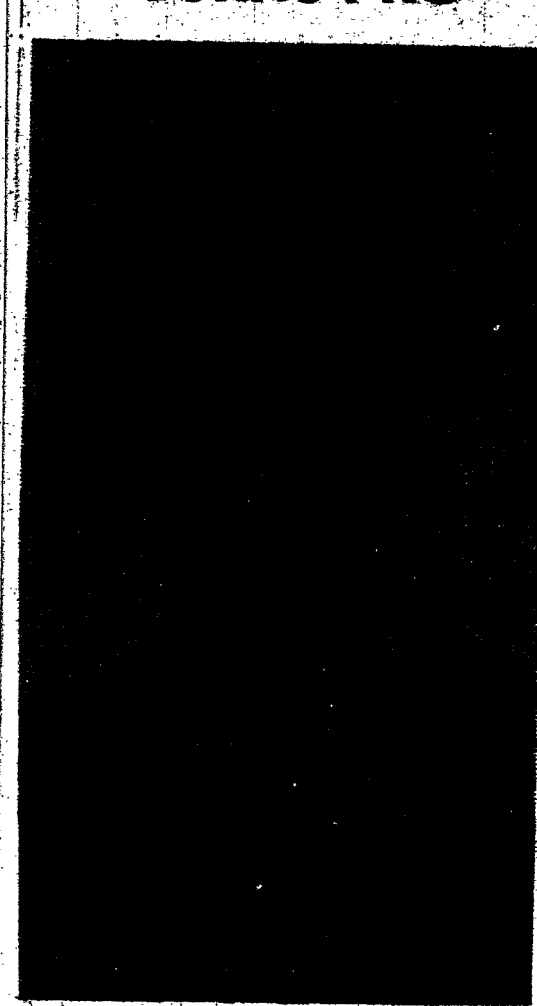

Wings, similar to those of the Air Force, will be given to those completing the course and graduating as an official Ground Observatory member.

High School students are expected to be among the many volunteers.

Those that wish to lend their services but will be unable to attend the Tuesday meeting will be able to contact the Civil Defense office in Bay St. Louis.

However, Whitfield pointed out that the Tuesday meeting will be an important one as the complete program will be given by Air Force personnel.

N. O. Lecturer To Review Book At Library Tue.

Mrs. John Hall Jacobs, popular lecturer and wife of the City Librarian of New Orleans, will review Edwin O'Connor's prize-winning novel, "The Last Hurrah," at the second of a series of reviews at the City-County Memorial Library here April 24 at 3:30 p.m. Donations of $1.00 will be taken at the door.

In spinning the tale of the life of the fictional hero, author O'Connor takes the reader through the turmoil of big-city politics in America, with its accompanying humor as well as the joys and disappointments experienced by the hero and his associates in his rise to power on the political scene.

"For its authentic detail," wrote Edward Weeks, editor of the ATLANTIC, "for its truth in characterization and for its rich, humorous and warm delineation of American life, 'The Last Hurrah' is altogether worthy of the prize award."

In what the Hancock County Sheriff's office described as the best organized man-hunt they had ever seen, two 15-year-old Birmingham, Ala. youths were apprehended in a little more than four hours after they had taken about $24 from a cash register at Maskew's Service Station on US 90 Wednesday and fled in a stolen '51 Ford station wagon.

J. W. Maskew, 59, owner of a service station at the junction of Hys. 90 and 43, said his wife was in the back of the station and he was outside in an oil house. He said he saw two men get into a station wagon and drive off toward New Orleans. When he entered the station, he found the money missing. While his wife notified the sheriff's office, he gave chase in his car as far as the Louisiana State line, but failed to catch sight of the station wagon.

The local sheriff's office alerted the Picayune police and the Mississippi and Louisiana highway patrols, and Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner and Deputy Sam Peterson joined the pursuit. Also joining the chase were the Slidell, La. Police Department, and the sheriff's offices of St. Tammany and Washington parishes in Louisiana, as well as New Orleans police, who set up a roadblock on highways into the city from the north and east.

A St. Tammany Parish deputy spotted the station wagon on the outskirts of Slidell, and the youths abandoned their vehicle and fled into the woods.

About 75 officers congregated on the scene, and patrolled the circumference of the wooded area while bloodhounds were called in from the Baton Rouge, La., Sheriff's office. The bloodhounds arrived in about an hour. In the meantime, a deputy caught a glimpse of the pair in the woods. When the bloodhounds arrived, they were put on the trail at that point, and the youths called the two youths in what Sheriff Ladner described as "a matter of minutes."

Following the capture, which deputy Peterson said was made at some time between 9:30 and 10:00 p.m., the boys waived extradition and were returned to the Hancock County jail.

The boys, who said they lived in Birmingham, gave their names as Jack Tracy Smith and Douglas Hugh Praetor. Smith told the Sheriff he had spent 11 months in a reformatory for "stealing a Jeep in Jasper, a scooter in Clanton, and a car in Alabaster, Ala."

Sheriff Ladner said the youths told him they left Birmingham Monday in a stolen truck. They abandoned the truck and stole a 1950 Ford in Montgomery, they said. The Ford gave them trouble, so they abandoned it and hitchhiked to Pensacola, Fla., where they admitted stealing a '51 Ford station wagon by jumping the ignition wires.

The boys admitted breaking into three places along the way, the Sheriff said. At the first place they took food, at the second beer and cigarettes, and at the third they took a cash register. The register contained only a few pennies, they said, and they dumped it along the road.

The youths are being held on a charge of robbery, but probably will be turned over to the FBI for crossing a state line with a stolen car, Sheriff Ladner said.

NEW OIL WELL DRILLING SET

A new oil drilling start is scheduled to get underway immediately in the Ansley area of Hancock County. J. Willis Hughes has permitted his Mulatto Bayou venture, The State of Mississippi No. 1, sec. 24-9s-15w located approximately two miles north of the discovery well.

Contract depth is 12,000 feet. Hughes is reported to have abandoned his Weston Lumber Company No. 1, sec. 34-8s-15w, with no shows reported to total depth of 11,319 feet.

The Ansley discovery, Cuevas No. 1, sec. 30-9s-15w, is reported to be continuing to flow in excess of 200 barrels of 43 gravity oil per day with a large gas content.

Meanwhile, Marshall R. Young, whose venture is the county's only producing well, is reported to be contemplating drilling two ventures north of his discovery well.

Also in Ansley field, Young is building roads to location of the No. 1, W. J. Geis, Jr. located in the center of Sec. 20-9s-15w, and is rigging up company, with drill site in the center of the sec. 30-9s-15w.

Exam. Announced For Clermont P. O.

Helicopters' Hunt Prove False Alarm

An S.O.S. from a boat reportedly in distress two miles off shore from Waveland Sunday night proved to be a false report and a four hour search by U. S. Coast Guard helicopters was called off at midnight.

According to Capt. McCarty, public information officer at Keesler AFB, the Coast Guard in Biloxi received a telephone call from J. A. Thomas, Gulfport, a ham operator who said he picked up the distress call. Keesler was asked to send a helicopter to the Waveland area until the Coast Guard in New Orleans could dispatch their own. At 7:32 Sunday night two helicopters left New Orleans for Waveland.

In a telephone conversation, public information officer at the Coast Guard in New Orleans told the ECHO that the helicopters searched in an area three miles west of Waveland to two miles east of Bay St. Louis from shore to seven miles off shore. They found no distress signals and called the search off at midnight.

FIRST TRUCKLOAD OF HANCOCK COUNTY RICE IS SHIPPED TO LOUISIANA

A shipment totaling 8,600 bushels of commercial grown rice, the first truckload of rice in Hancock County's agricultural history, left Tuesday afternoon for Lake Charles, La.

The rice was grown as an experiment by L. L. Fletcher, originally from Crowley, La., who planted 127 acres in Texas Flats. Two types, Zenith, a short grain, and Blue Bonnet, a long grain were planted.

This was the first commercial planting of rice in this section of Mississippi. The fields were planted in May, 1955, and the rice was harvested in Sept.

The rice was stored in steel bins under the storage facility loan, a U. S. government loan, on the farm until Tuesday when it was shipped to Lake Charles. There it will be placed in a government warehouse.

"This is a high quality rice, No. 1 and 2 grade. The yield was 75 bushels to the acre in a 127-acre field compared to a 52-bushel average of rice grown in the Delta area (upstate)," W. T. Johnson, U. S. department of agriculture, Jackson, said. The shipment consisted of 3 carloads weighing over 3000,000 pounds.

The boys, who said they lived in Birmingham, gave their names as Jack Tracy Smith and Douglas Hugh Praetor. Smith told the Sheriff he had spent 11 months in a reformatory for "stealing a Jeep in Jasper, a scooter in Clanton, and a car in Alabaster, Ala."

'Captain Jim,' 80, Native Of Logtown Dies In Slidell, La.

"Captain Jim," James B. Howze, Sr., an 80-year old native of Logtown, died Thursday at his home in Slidell, La.

Howze and the late Frank Comfort were owners and operators of the ferry that ran across Lake Pontchartrain from West End to Mandeville in the late 20's. When their boat burned, ferry service on the lake ended.

"Captain Jim," as he was known through this section of the country, went to Slidell in 1885 as a captain on a boat for the Salmen Brick and Lumber Company. He captained boats on Lake Pontchartrain, the Mississippi river and along the Gulf of Mexico for some 20 years.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at the Slidell residence. Interment was in Greenwood cemetery.

Survivors include four sons, two daughters, one brother two sisters, including Mrs. Mary Comfort of Logtown, and five grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Weekend Wind Batters Barges

Winds up to 40 miles an hour sent six barges around along the Gulf Coast over the weekend and one vessel was reported missing, according to the U. S. Coast Guard in New Orleans.

In the windswept Mississippi Sound, barges broke loose from the tug Shirley Jones. Two washing ashore on the beach in Biloxi during the high winds, knocked over three beacon lights marking the Biloxi channel.

The Coast Guard said a barge went aground off Waveland, while others landed on the beaches at Gulfport, Long Beach and Pass Christian.

The barges caused no damages or injuries.

A search for a vessel which reportedly sent out a distress signal was called off Sunday night after a Coast Guard search over the Bay St. Louis-Waveland area.

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Edward C. Chapin, a retired railroad engineer, who died at his home Sunday in Gulfport.

Services were conducted at St. John Catholic Church in Gulfport.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Anne C. Clancy Chapin; a daughter, Mrs. C. Borzick, Gulfport; and a son, T. J. Chapin, Bay St. Louis.

HITCHCOCK NEW TALENT REVEALED IN LATEST FILM
Following close on the heels of the great suspense tales "Rear Window" and "To Catch A Thief," Alfred Hitchcock's latest film, "The Trouble With Harry," will come as a surprise, a delightful one, to his world-wide audience.

Already acknowledged master of the kind of story that glues you to your seat, Hitchcock has this time mixed chuckles and guffaws with his chills, and the result is completely unique, completely captivating entertainment.

"The Trouble With Harry," arriving April 24-25 at the A&G Theatre, with Edmund Gwenn and John Forsythe starred, and introducing Paramount's red-haired, lovely young pixie, Shirley MacLaine, is the wonderfully bizarre story of a group of Vermonters faced with the problem of what to do with a body that won't stay buried.

Eight years ago today saw the largest all-time opening crowd in baseball history. Before 73,163 frantic fans the Cleveland Indians started the season by hosting the then St. Louis Browns, (now the Kansas City Browns).

That year the Indians, for the first time since 1920, went on to win the American League title.

A right-hander named Gene Bearden aided the flag-grabbing tribe with his loop-best earned run average of 2.42. However, this year Bearden isn't around—but Mike Garcia, Bob Lemon, Art Houtteman, Herb Score, Early Wynn and even Bobbie Feller are back. This year Cleveland should St. Stanislaus coach Herb Adams has accepted a professional football contract and will leave July 1 for Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada. Regina, in Saskatchewan province (state) about 180 miles north of Montana, is one of the twelve grid-iron clubs in the Canadian League.

The 24 year old assistant coach said that the club would begin training in July, the regular season starting in August and continuing through October.

Adams, a former half-back, had his college experience at Southeastern Oklahoma; and upon graduating was offered a pro contract. He refused the playing contract and took a high school coaching position at Long Beach. He was assist-

CABBAGES and KINGS

In these pessimistic days it's refreshing to hear about a true optimist.
A local sporting goods dealer told us about a chap who came into his place recently and said he had never fished before, but that a friend had given him a rod and a reel, and he was going to take up fishing. So, the neophyte bought one casting club—and a fish stringer.

Jack Tannehill, editor of the Neshoba County Democrat, says that there's nothing cheap about politicians—take a look at the tax bill.

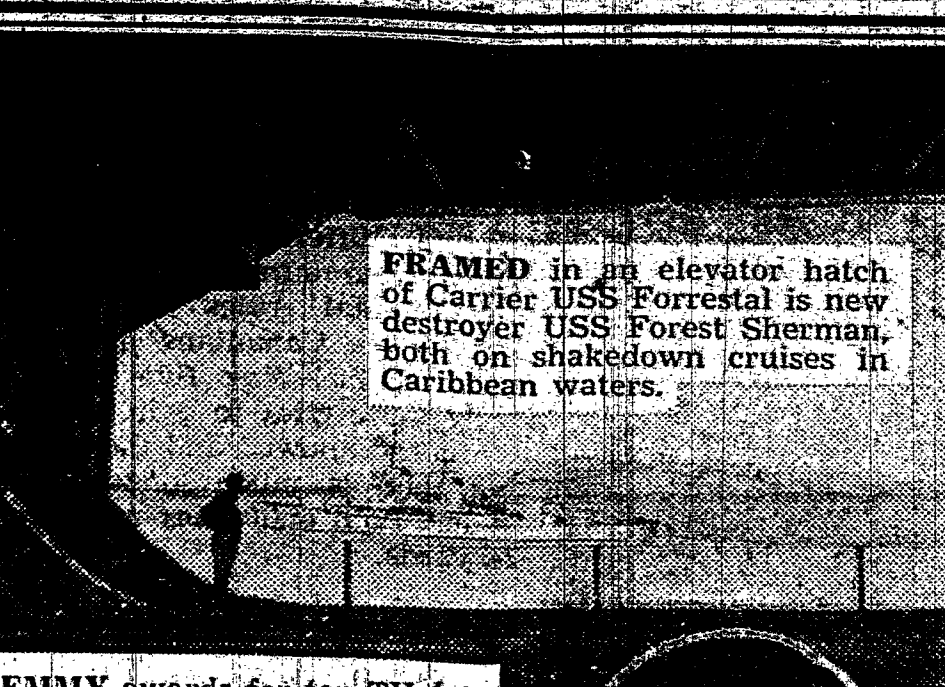

Are all men fools?" inquired the wife attempting to get in the last word in a bitter argument.

"No, dear," replied the husband. "Some are bachelors."

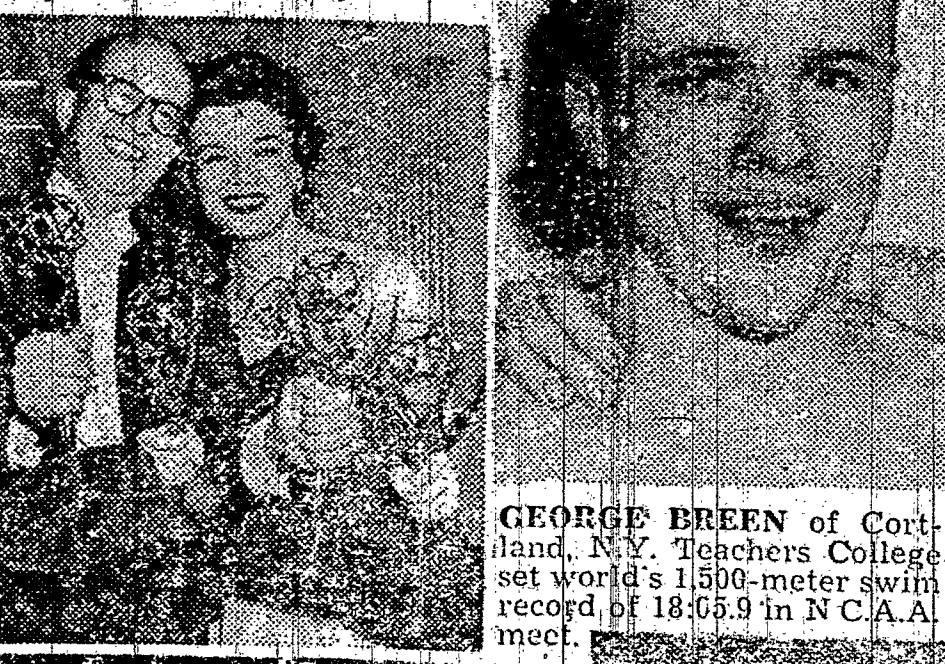

First Texan: "Hear you bought a new Cadillac?"

Second Texan: "Almost had to, 'old man. I ducked into their showroom to make a phone call and didn't like to leave without buying anything."

Boats & Boating

The largest number of small boats in history will be put overboard this year, with last year's estimate of 5,537,000 recreation boats expected to be at least 20 percent higher.

Since the majority of pleasure boats fall into the small boat classes, 1 and 1 1/2 ft. is with these this column will deal.

Class 1 includes boats less than 16 feet in length. Class 1 comprises those of 16 feet or over, but less than 26 feet. Class 2 takes in those from 26 to 40 feet, and Class 3 includes motor boats of 40 to 65 feet.

The Motor Boat Act of 1940 defines a "motor boat" as "every vessel propelled by machinery and not more than 65 feet in length except tugboats and towboats propelled by steam."

Outboard boats, under the act, are considered as motor boats, as well as auxiliary sailboats when under power. Even a rowboat or skiff, when an outboard motor is attached, becomes a motor boat, and is subject to regulations relating to motor boats.

LIGHTS

Lights are required on all classes, to be displayed from sunset to sunrise.

Motor boats under 26 feet (Class A and Class 1) carry forward a combination red and green bow light arranged to show a red light on the port (left) side and a green light on the starboard (right) side. Each colored light shows through 10 points from dead ahead to 2 points abaft the beam (22 1/2 degrees of arc from dead ahead). Aft (to the rear) they carry a bright white light showing all around the horizon, arranged light forward. However, lighting equipment is not required to be aboard in the daytime.
